

You're Invited

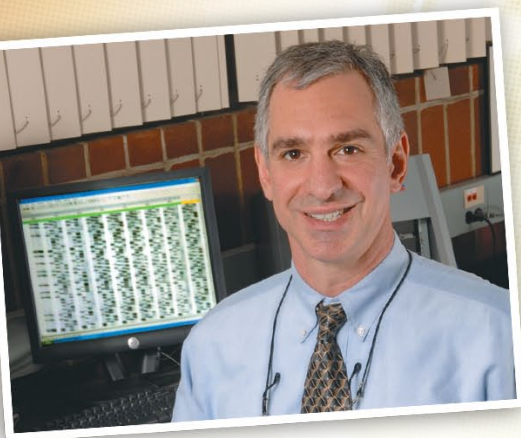

Boise State University cordially invites you to a special reception and conversation with Dr. Greg Hampikian:

How DNA Science Freed Amanda Knox

Thursday, December 1, 2011 • 7:00 – 9:00 pm

*Bellevue Club
11200 Southeast Sixth Street
Bellevue, Washington 98004*

Dessert Reception

Dr. Hampikian is a Professor at Boise State University with a joint appointment in Biology and Criminal Justice. He is the founder and Director of the Idaho Innocence Project and has worked on DNA cases throughout the US, Ireland, the UK, Italy and France, helping in ten exonerations, including Amanda Knox.

BOISE STATE UNIVERSITY

We respectfully request your RSVP confirming attendance or sending regrets by November 23 universityadvancement@boisestate.edu or (208) 426-2700.

A metropolitan research university of distinction,
Boise State University's excellence extends far Beyond the Blue.